

Price leaves

WYCOMBE Wanderers have released young striker Tony Price, who has been unable to claim a place in the side this season. Price wanted regular football and was given permission to go by manager Ted Powell.

An Oxford University student, Price had trials with Leicester City two years ago and re-joined Wycombe at the start of the season. He played in only two league games for the Blues but showed his promise with his skills on either wing. He will join Southern League Cheltenham Town.

Manager Powell is looking to reduce his squad further in the near future now the club is out of the F.A. Cup.
